ZEPPELIN DOCK, AKRON, O., April 15.—Commander Alger H. Dresel today definitely called off the maiden flight of the navy's new giant dirigible, the U. S. S. Macon, until Monday morning.

AKRON, O., April 15.—Nonscript mutts gave way to freshly creased blue uniforms today as the restive crew of the U. S. S. Macon, world's largest airship, put the giant twin of the ill-fated Akron in trim for its initial test flight, now scheduled for Easter morning. A crew of 88 will be carried.

Chafing under repeated flight postponements necessitated by unfavorable weather and airport conditions, Commander Alger H. Dresel of New York City, said he expected a nearly ideal troposphere Sunday at sunrise.

Great Deal Of Important Legislation Needs Attention Before Adjourning

HARRISBURG, April 15.—With nothing certain but uncertainty and disagreement, Republican organization leaders today were still undecided among themselves about plans for winding up the present legislative session.

Although Alderman O. H. P. Green, veteran fisherman said early this morning: "Gee, this is a nice morning for trout, I wish I had gone fishing" reports from anglers at noon were lacking. The trout season opened today with plenty of anglers along streams.

Not all of the fishermen went to streams miles distant from the city limits today. No Siree! One 10 year old chap had a cord for a line, a stick for a pole and a trout hook and angled from the top of the East Washington Street bridge which spans the Neshannock river.

City Controller Phil Greer today studied the various payrolls for municipal employees as they will receive their wages for the first half of April month on Tuesday. Employees are paid twice monthly and officials once monthly.

One of the fine old white oak trees, which stand in the grove near the Neshannock U. P. church were lacking. The trout season opened today with plenty of anglers along streams.

Even if House and Senate chief tents were to agree over the week end to adjourn finally Friday or Saturday, the task would be extremely difficult. Morning, afternoon, and night sessions would be the order of the week as it was during the week just ended. And it is conceded that even then a great deal of important legislation would be left hanging on calendars or in committee cloisters. Fighting it out may cost six weeks or more.

Many Controversies

Every controversial subject programmed when the session opened in January is still hanging fire. Only two significant pieces of legislation have gone to the governor's desk. The Grange Master J. Audley Book will be present at the 20th anniversary of the organization of Big Beaver grange Friday evening, April 21, at the grange hall near Hays Crossing. Ponoma Master David F. Kyle and Mrs. Kyle will be present also.

Increase Operations At Can Works Plant

Due to seasonal demands the American Can Company is now operating a night shift according to Mr. Kannenberg and no new men have been taken on nor will there be any taken on as long as any former employees are idle. The night shift has been operating now for about two weeks but no statement is made as to the duration of its operation.

MRS. JUDD'S SANITY HEARING UNDER WAY

(International News Service)
STATE PRISON, Florence, Ariz., April 15.—With state's alienists admitting that Winnie Ruth Judd's mind had "changed," a jury today was to hear the first testimony in the insanity trial that will decide the fate of the blonde "double trunk" murderer.

Mrs. Judd's lead on life is now six days. She is under sentence to be hanged next Friday. She was accused of killing Agnes Anne Leroy and Hedwig Samuelson and of shipwrecking their dismembered bodies in trunks from Phoenix to Los Angeles.

She may not know her fate until a few hours before the scheduled time of the hanging. She declared yesterday that, "I don't want to hang, or go to an asylum. I want to stay here."

Prospects were that the sanity hearing would continue several days, and a lengthy deliberation would run the case until the very day of the scheduled hanging. It was considered possible that the pardon board might grant an additional reprieve.

Premier Briefly Outlines His Arms On Visit To White House

(International News Service)
SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., April 15.—Happy and jovial, Prime Minister MacDonald sailed for Washington aboard the Liner Berengaria today to discuss world problems with President Roosevelt.

Accompanied by his daughter, Ishbel, and his assistants, the Prime Minister joked with reporters as he boarded the ship, bathed in a flood of warm sunshine.

"I think we may take the sunshine as a good augury of what's going to happen when we reach Washington," he declared.

No sooner had MacDonald reached the steamer from the boat train than he received a message cabled by President Roosevelt. It said:

"We are greatly looking forward to your being with us and wish you a good voyage."

Wonderful Weather

MacDonald immediately dispatched the following reply:

"Thank you very much for your cable. I am leaving in wonderful weather, which I take as a good omen."

HAPPENS NEAR PITTSBURGH, PA.

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, April 15.—Hi-jacking racketeers today served notice of their intention to "muscle in" on the legitimate beer trade when they hi-jacked a truck load of beer on the William Penn highway just east of Wilkinsburg, kidnapped the driver and escaped with 200 cases of beer and the truck.

Ernest E. Coulter of Troy Hill, driver for the Milk Cartage company, told police his truck was slowly making the steep grade of the Wilkinsburg hill with a truck load of beer from the Independent Brewing company consigned to Punsutawney consumers when a sedan containing three men pulled up alongside.

The sedan slowed down to the truck's pace and two of the men leaped on the running board, each covering Coulter with a pistol. The sedan following, the men ordered Coulter to drive to a side road leading to Turtle Creek.

Driver Spreads Alarm

At Turtle Creek, two of the men forced Coulter from the wheel of the truck and hustled him into the sedan. He was driven by his captors to a secluded spot near Keown station, ten miles away, and bound to a tree. Then the racketeers fled.

Coulter writhed at his bonds for nearly an hour before he was able to free himself and telephone his employers.

The Milk Cartage company estimated value of the beer at $450 and the truck at $4,500.

Descriptions of the hi-jackers were flashed throughout Western Pennsylvania over the police telephone.

STATE TO PAY HEAVILY FOR FARM AID

New Measure Hits State Hard

Estimate Would Pay $105,216,000 Under New Bill For Return Of $18,785,000

CONSUMER WOULD PAY HEAVY TAX

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 15.—The farm bill now in Congress would cost consumers of Pennsylvania a sales tax of $105,216,000 annually and would return only $18,785,000 to farmers of the state, according to figures placed in the Congressional Record by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

The tax paid by the Pennsylvania consumers, amounting to $105,216,000 would be originally a processors tax on manufacturers but would be passed on by the manufacturers to the consumers as a sales tax on manufactured products. The $18,785,000 returned to farmers of the state would represent a bonus paid under the domestic allotment plan of the farm bill.

The $105,216,000 yearly cost of the legislation to Pennsylvania, reported by Senator Vandenberg, would average $47.06 per family in the state.

Of this huge consumers tax levied on Pennsylvania residents, $9,358,000 would be paid by farmers of the state, or an average of $54.27 per farm. The $18,785,000 bonus returned to farmers under the allotment plan would average $108.95 per farm.

BRITISH WORKER CLAIMS FRAME-UP OF SOVIET CASE

the outcome of which the lives of the Britons and 11 accused Russians may be at stake.

Ulrich demanded:

"Is the statement in connection with the examination last night of L. A. Sukhoruchin?" This witness last night accused another of the Britons, W. H. Thornton, of formulating plans to cripple the Kremlin. Soviet "White House", in anticipation of war between Russia and Britain.

"Yes," Monkhouse replied, approaching the microphone. He then asked to be allowed to speak English, but Ulrich responded that he spoke Russian quite well.

Speaks in English.

"Yes, but I wish to speak English for the sake of accuracy," the Briton said in firm tones.

Finally Ulrich agreed, and the handsome six-foot Englishman, gazing squarely at Ulrich and speaking in a calm, penetrating voice, declared:

"After listening to the evidence as given by Sukhoruchin and the other Soviet citizens yesterday and the day before—

"Just a moment, just a moment," the judge interrupted. "Do you wish to make a statement or give an explanation in connection with last night's testimony?"

"I wish to make a declaration," Monkhouse said.

"In connection with Sukhoruchin?" the court asked.

"Yes," thundered Monkhouse, continuing.

"After the showing which Sukhoruchin made last night, it is clear to me and everyone that this case is a frame-up against the Metropolitan-Vickers engineers, based on evidence of terrorized prisoners."

Maintains Rights.

Ulrich sought vainly to interrupt the speaker, but there was no stopping Monkhouse until he had achieved his purpose, which was to inform the entire U. S. S. R. and the world that, in his opinion, he and his colleagues were not guilty, as the evidence of the past three days might be taken to indicate.

Sternly the judge declared:

"You said you were going to speak in connection with the examination of Sukhoruchin last night, and now you are speaking in behalf of the other prisoners, even the Russian prisoners."

Replying in a deadly calm but polite voice, Monkhouse said:

Prisoners Terrorized.

"As I understand the law, I have a right to make a declaration here, and I wish to continue with the evidence."

"I know from my own experience when I was arrested and subjected to 18 hours of cross-examination," he continued, referring to his charge the prisoners had been terrorized.

Once more the judge broke in, with this remark:

"You can say what you want to say when your turn comes. You will have opportunity to make your concluding speech. According to our plan, we are going to examine two men today, and your turn may be tonight or tomorrow morning."

"But I cannot allow you to make any declaration on behalf of either British or Soviet citizens, and I therefore call Krashenninikov."

Russian is Called.

V. D. Krashenninikov was one of the engineers in the Moscow electrical station. When he came up to testify, Monkhouse said "thank you" to Ulrich and returned to his seat.

The new witness testified that he carried out wrecking activities at the instigation of Monkhouse and Thornton and accepted a bribe of 500 roubles. This brought hot denials from both Englishmen, who took a personal hand in the proceedings and started to cross-examine the witness themselves.

They soon confused him, and no amount of effort expended by the prosecutors could counteract the favorable impression they thus created for themselves.

Monkhouse, a note of triumph in his voice, declared he was convinced the witness was not guilty of the charges against him.

Next to take the stand was N. G. Zorin, an engineer charged with sabotage in the Moscow electrical station, and also with concealing defects in Metropolitan Vickers equipment, for which, he said, he received 1,000 roubles from Thornton.

Relief Program Being Prepared

National Effort To Relieve Unemployment Is Taking Form

HUGE BOND ISSUE TO BE AUTHORIZED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Piecemeal, President Roosevelt is fitting together a vast program for relief of unemployment, stimulation of industry and expansion of currency.

Involved in this probably will be:

A bond issue of $3,000,000,000 or more for immediate application to public works;

Shortening of working hours and establishment of a minimum wage, and,

Reorganization of the railroads with an ultimate view to reducing freight rates.

It probably will be a week or ten days before Mr. Roosevelt is ready to submit his public works program to Congress. He has not yet reached a final decision as to the size of the bond issue to be floated and he also is still giving consideration to the proposal to make these bonds eligible as security for the issuance of new currency.

Congress is now considering the Black 30-hour week bill for labor.

At the suggestion of the administration this measure is expected to be made more elastic so that given industries would be treated separately in the matter of working hours.

The President also has let it be known he favors the setting of a minimum wage, provided it is constitutional.

A message probably will be sent to Congress next week suggesting a temporary reorganization of the railroads.

Mr. Roosevelt has given up his idea of undertaking a permanent reorganization at this time and will ask only for authority to experiment between now and January, when he will be ready with a comprehensive and final plan.

The railroads will be placed under a national co-ordinator, under the temporary plan. The co-ordinator would have authority to eliminate duplication of service and effect voluntary consolidations.

The President has been in close touch with the four senators, Senator (D) New York, LaFollette (R) Wisconsin, Costigan (D) Colorado, and Cutting (R) New Mexico, who have been championing a big public works program as a means of taking up unemployment. Next week he expects to confer with them and other congressional leaders before putting the final touches on his recommendations.

Will Attempt To Untangle 30 Hour Week Work Bill

When Senate Reconvenes Monday Motion To Reconsider Bill Will Be Made

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Drastic action will be invoked Monday to untangle the Black 30-hour week from a parliamentary tangle that has kept it trussed and helpless more than a week, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, announced today.

When the Senate convenes Monday he will call the motion to reconsider the Black bill which was offered by Senator Trammell (D) of Florida.

If opponents of the Black bill are determined to hold up action I shall myself make a motion to table the Trammell motion," the senator announced. This motion is not debatable.

If you have a new outfit for tomorrow, better park your umbrella near it.

EASTER AND SPRING

ONE cannot dissociate Easter and spring, no matter how early or late the religious festival may come nor how unseasonable the weather attending its advent. Easter is spring and life is reborn.

The dead days are past the requiem of winter is forgotten as the birds sing the resurrection of nature. The poet sighs, the sun smiles, perhaps, and the woman with a new spring hat looks anxiously at the meteorological emanations from the shrine on Olympus which the irreverent flippantly call the weather works. Enveloping and hallowing it all is the atmosphere that sends the soul journeying beside still waters, through peaceful valleys, soft grasses and awakening buds and sooths it with imaginary scents of flowers awaiting only warmth to spread their sweetness on a newly aroused world.

Besides its religious meaning, that is the spirit and significance of Easter. The display of colors and raiment in unison with the earth throwing off its old garments is as ancient as the race. Man always has wanted to sing as soon as the birds did and he has done so. Even the Bible has its beautiful poetic allusions to spring, and the vernal festivals of ancient days were a public expression of the song that was in the hearts of the people as a whole.

We do not have anything we did not inherit, so it is not strange that a woman wants a pretty hat at Easter time. As a matter of fact it would be strange if she did not. And it is not to be expected that poets will quit caroling about spring as long as nature sends winters that inspire poets to say "Oh, wind, if winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT ON THE TARIFF

Speaking to the Governing Board of the Pan-American Union, President Roosevelt told his listeners that it was of vital importance that their governments should "abolish all unnecessary barriers and restrictions which now hamper the healthy flow of trade between the peoples of the American republics." This same subject is to become an important one in the discussions about to be undertaken in Washington with representatives of foreign nations.

The thought that the president has had in mind is reciprocity-inferentially a give-and-take arrangement. It is a problem that will have to be given expert attention if American industry is to be adequately protected. If "unnecessary barriers" can be broken down without sacrificing our own working people, well and good. But just what constitutes an "unnecessary barrier"?

We shall have to wait for an answer until details are developed.

LIFE ITS OWN MEMORIAL

That styles in tombstone inscriptions are subject to change and have changed in certain essential respects during the last half century are facts brought to public attention by a veteran Ohio stonemason who has been carving epitaphs for five decades. The public, however, will not agree with him that the change is for the worse.

The sculptor for the dead laments that sentimental epitaphs are no longer inscribed on headstones. The modern custom of carving only names and dates on tombstones represents to him so much less work per stone.

Perhaps there are still places in the "uncivilized" hinterland where mourning relatives cause to be chiseled upon the monuments of the dead brief testimonials to the character of the deceased, elegiac or scriptural verses, and even notes of warning to the living or an apophysis on the dead. Rural cemeteries furnish many examples of this custom of not so long ago.

And why should the tombstone furnish more facts about the dead than the name and dates of birth and death? Man's works are preserved elsewhere than on polished slabs of marble and as he lives he writes the record of that life upon a tablet that not even time can wholly efface.

GIFTS TO WOMEN'S COLLEGES

Out of sixty and two-thirds millions of dollars given by Americans to educational institutions in 1932, women's colleges received only two million. Twenty-seven and four-fifths millions went to men's colleges and universities, twenty-five and one-half millions to co-educational schools, and upwards of five millions to foreign universities.

Commenting on this disparity, the heads of seven eastern colleges for women attribute it to the fact that "the habit of giving to higher education for women has not become established on the part of the public as it has long since been established for men's colleges and universities. It is not, however, possible to wait for time to effect this. The need is so urgent that we must emphasize it now. There is encouragement that the value of the contribution of women's colleges to contemporary life is being felt, in the fact that two-thirds of a million more was given to them in 1932 than in 1931."

There should be no decrease in benefactions to men's colleges, but assuredly there should be a great increase in those to women's colleges; for, as a rule, an educated girl is likely to exert a more vital influence for social progress than is an educated boy.

NEW GOLD RUSH

Gold rushes in olden times were started by the discovery of rich deposits of yellow dirt. This generation has seen several started by unemployment.

Thousands of men and women have gone into the hills because they have nothing else to do and can eke out a living with the pick and pan. In three states alone there are 3,000 placer miners, mostly amateurs. A few may strike it rich; it is too bad all cannot.

Echoes of the historic days of gold are heard from the mining country. Vigilance committees have been organized to deal with claim jumpers, the villains of the dime novel days. Prospectors are being grubstaked by merchants and others willing to speculate a few hundred on a long chance. And out of the mountains come rumors of nuggets and bonanzas.

The reason this gold rush seems devoid of glamor, adventure and romance is because there are no hostile Indians to fight, no trackless deserts to cross or unknown mountains to penetrate, no wagon trains and no picturesque characters taken out of story books of the Wild West. Time adds the veneer of romance and adventure. A hundred years from now the placer miners of 1932 may take the place of the forty-niners.

Gold is all right and so are greenbacks to us.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

YOU CANNOT PAY BACK
I do something for an acquaintance. He is grateful and he thanks me. He will do the same for me some day. I say, "Forget it; I was glad to do it." Everything is fine. . . . But almost immediately he "pays me back," does something for me that does not need to be done. . . . I thank him, but I am depressed. I have a feeling that he did not want to be "under obligations" to me or to anyone else in this world.

He was restive under that feeling that he owed me something, and he could not be happy until he squared what he considered a debt. So he went out of his way to do something for me.

I say to myself, "You are mistaken. You shouldn't be so cynical. He merely felt friendly toward you and wanted to show his gratitude and appreciation. He wasn't merely clearing the accounts. Be fair."

And perhaps that's right. Perhaps I WAS too cynical. But, somehow, I have my doubts. You can usually tell how the other fellow feels, and in this case I am almost certain that my acquaintance could not endure being in debt to any one.

What a foolish fellow! To think that he or any other man can ever pay what he owes!

Can he pay for birth? Can he pay for his mother? Can he pay the woman who loves him? Can he pay his children for the delight he has of them? Where can he pay for the breath he draws and at what counter pay in full for the good appetite with which he sits down to eat?

A flower delights him. A swift running horse gives him joy. The moon is a velvet sky, the sun as it sets in a glory of color, the good smell of the earth after a sudden shower, the coolness of water from a secret spring, the smile of a passing fellow creature—how can he, poor beast, pay for these?

My friend, we are all insolvent. We are all buried beneath a mountain of unpaid payable debt. All around us are our friendly creditors, and there is no escape. Burdened by obligations we can never, must not, pay—we go our way through life—and if you would be wise, keep in mind that "Too great eagerness to require an obligation is a species of ingratitude."

FLIRTATIONS.

You are not above a little mild flirtation, and you let it be known.

Of course not. In so many words but your actions indicate it.

Even though you are married and so are your associates, you say you can not see any harm in flirting as a passing amusement.

To you it may be a fleeting incident with just enough sense of danger to provide a little excitement.

To the other hand it may spell disaster for the other one involved.

either in destroying home peace or in creating a scandal, perhaps with out truth as a foundation.

You think that you are privileged to carry on as you please.

You say it is nobody's business if you want to have a little fun.

But it is true that it takes very little to cause a matrimonial craft to founder.

It makes you feel sort of "divilish" and snappy.

If it makes you feel that way, how many of your friends who look on you as having a childish desire for excitement are laughing behind hands.

"Sex impulse," is what they say to themselves, with a laugh inwardly.

But if they are maliciously inclined they may turn your little amusement into life-long hurt for somebody.

PONTIUS PILATE.

In every age, in every town, Some Pontius Pilate goes to rule. Trained to keep new ideas down In some old custom's rigid school. And taught to worship pomp and power.

And think of self his whole life long.

In some momentous, tragic hour He gives assent to what is wrong.

Poor Pontius Pilate washed his hands

Of what appeared a troublous case.

He listened to the crowd's commands.

Not caring further rage to face.

He stilled the conscience in his breast

And bartered courage for content.

And in that judgment never guessed How much his sorry failure meant.

His petty place as Judge to save

And Caesar's favor to retain,

Unto expedience he gave

The word to let the Christ be slain.

And now forever he must stand

Wearing the sorry brand and blight

Of one so eager to command

He feared alone to do the right.

How many, many times we see

Such men select the easy way.

Letting Barabbas go free

To suit the pressure of the day!

Poor Pilates, playing dice with fate,

Although their minds are ill at ease!

MISSING rare moments to be great,

Some Caesar high in power to please!

Strong Witnesses Pollock Program

Novel 'Television' Pageant Educational One; Has International Theme

Imaginations were a part of the mechanism of the novel "model television" machinery which brought an educational pageant for the Pollock school children during an auditorium program this week.

Three Pollock teachers, Miss Anne Shifman, Miss Rosalyn Saifer and Miss Ruth Weir, were chiefly responsible for the mock radio-television exercises that paraded forth before a packed school hall the stories and songs of a host of foreign countries.

Teachers Trained Groups

The school's art class under Miss Saifer's direction had completed their lessons in costume designs of different countries. Grade 3A dressed figures of Arabia; 4B figures of Holland; 4A1 and 5A1 figures of Mexico; 5B2 figures of Scotland; 5A figures of Denmark; 6B figures of Japan and 6A figures of Italy.

In the auditorium period the children told their teacher, Miss Shifman, they'd like to bring these figures into a play. They set about with much enthusiasm to learn more about people of these countries. Soon history books, geographies, library books and other volumes came pouring into the auditorium. Books were read and exchanged. At this point the children decided which things were interesting and which were not. Then it was decided to have a "television broadcast."

The theme selected was that Fairy Goodwill meets the Spirit of the Radio and together they decide that the figures of the different lands cannot spread good will while being held in thumbtacks. Accordingly, with her magic wand, Fairy Goodwill releases the figures to entertain the pupils.

The costumes were designed under Miss Saifer's direction; the songs were taught under Miss Weir's direction and Miss Shifman, auditorium teacher, supervised the presentation.

Program As Given

Following is the "broadcast" which the throng of students and visiting parents saw:

Introductory—Amelia Augustine
Announcer—James Pezzone (introduces every county in the broadcast)

American Sailors—Song, Sailor Boy
Dance, original steps to same tune

Rev. W. W. Nelson, pastor of the Second Baptist church, announces that there will be three special services in his church Easter Sunday. At 11 o'clock the pastor will deliver the Easter sermon and appropriate music will be sung by the junior choir.

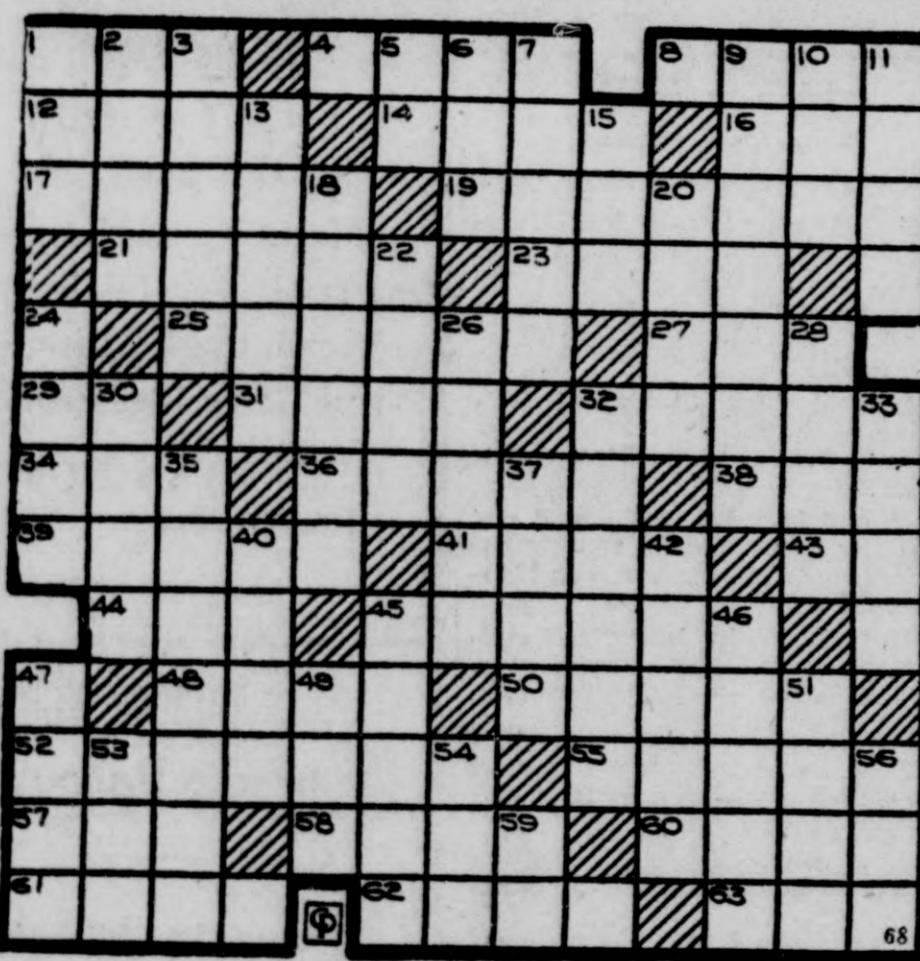

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon Rev. J. P. Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Farrell will be guest speaker, and at 7:30 p. m. the Easter program will be given by the young people of the church, with the senior choir in charge of the music.

Mrs. Irene Ellis and Mrs. Loretta Robinson will sing solos at the afternoon service.

VATICAN CITY, April 15.—Shortly before noon today all the church bells in Rome after a silence of almost 48 hours in mourning for the crucifixion, began a loud and sonorous tolling to mark the end of Lent.

The altars of all churches, which had been cleared of ornaments except for crucifixes veiled in violet, were again adorned as usual, and all sacred images were unveiled.

Many picturesque religious ceremonies were held in the morning, the blessing of the new fire, symbolizing the resurrection of Christ, took place in all churches.

Candle Is Lighted

The greatest number of pilgrims flocked to St. John Lateran, where Cardinal Pompili, vicar of the Pope, lit the Easter candle under the fine portico by using flint and tinder. Five grains of incense, representing the five wounds of the Lord, were put into the candle. Lighted, it was carried up the great nave in a long procession.

Another beautiful ceremony of all the churches was the blessing of the baptismal font. Particularly impressive is this ceremony at St. John Lateran, where the baptism is a long process.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—A drive to expand the currency was under way in the senate today as a group of insurgent Democrats demanded remonetization of silver at the historic "16 to 1" ratio.

At the instance of the group, Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana offered an amendment to the pending farm relief bill, authorizing the treasury to remonetize silver. He proposed the same ratio which the late William Jennings Bryan demanded in his "free silver" campaign of the nineties.

The same group was prepared to support the amendment of Senator Thomas (D) of Oklahoma, proposing to authorize the treasury to inflate the currency through any one of three methods. The administration would be empowered to choose between free coinage of silver at its own fixed ratio, issuance of "green backs" on the faith and credit of the government and reduction of the gold content of the dollar.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic floor leader, predicted both plans would be defeated.

Senator Wheeler declared the remonetization of silver was necessary to restore prosperity to the farms. He argued there was a different situation today than in 1896 when the people rejected the silver issue.

The second deputy retained, William M. Denison, was appointed director of the new bureau of professional licensing, a consolidation of the examining and licensing and teacher bureaus. This bureau consists of three divisions, teacher, law enforcement, and the pre-professional credentials and examinations.

Those dismissed included: Grace P. Smith, Indiana county, stenographer-typists: John D. Storm, Scranton.

There were 16 scouts present and the closing ceremony was led by George Miller and Bill Allison and was reviewed by some 50 visitors and committee men. The troop was then dismissed by Scoutmaster Ray Zeigler. The articles were examined closely by the visitors and many questions asked of what the articles were in relation to scouting.

How Citizens Can Help Unemployed And Add To Their Own Possessions

With more than half the houses in New Castle needing paint and repairs, the ranks of the unemployed could be greatly diminished if some concerted action toward a general paint up and fix up campaign could be inaugurated.

Inactivity of the average property owner is not due to lack of interest in his property, but is more often influenced by scarcity of funds. In the case of the home owner, high taxes and part time employment have prevented him from making improvements, while many who have houses for rent have found it impossible to secure sufficient income to meet taxes and interest where properties are encumbered by mortgages.

With this condition prevailing houses are being permitted to deteriorate while the ranks of the unemployed have grown. Not for years has there been a time when painting and ordinary repairs about a house could be made as cheaply as at present. While there are, no doubt, many who may find it impossible to do anything until they themselves have better incomes, there are nevertheless others who have been simply deferring improvements on account of general economic conditions.

Today the general industrial and business outlook is showing unmistakable signs of improvement. Monetary conditions are easing, industrial plants are putting on more men, commodity prices are advancing, and above all, the spirit of pessimism which has ruled the country for the past three years is giving way to a feeling of optimism. There is unquestionably a brighter outlook.

Each citizen can hasten the return of prosperity by doing his bit, whether it be painting a house, repairing a roof, putting in a new pair of steps, overhauling plumbing or the many other things necessary to keep a property in repair. Every bit of work helps somebody and hastens the return of better times.

There is no surer or quicker way to lose money than by letting a house deteriorate. A trip over the city will disclose many houses that are being permitted to go downhill simply for the lack of a little attention that anyone could give. If you are too busy to do this work yourself, there are plenty of idle workmen who are ready to lend a hand at reasonable prices. Help beautify your city and at the same time aid the unemployed and increase the value of your property.

Destroyers Need Rebuilding Says Admiral Standley

Commander Of Pacific Fleet
Says Old Destroyers
Weaken Defense

SHIPS OPERATED AT BIG HAZARDS

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, April 15.—Asserting that old destroyers not only weaken the entire United States fleet, but are extremely dangerous to personnel, Vice Admiral W. H. Standley, U. S. N., today urged immediate replacements.

"In 1936," said Admiral Standley, who is in command of the scouting force of the navy, "our destroyer fleet, which is permitted under the London treaty to consist of 140 ships, will include just eight modern destroyers. We will be outnumbered by rival powers by more than 10 to one and our force will be entirely inadequate for proper defense activity."

Do Not Realize

"The public refuses to realize the importance of this problem. They pass the de-commissioned destroyers tied up in San Diego Bay and at Philadelphia, making caustic remarks concerning the government for wasting these ships."

"They do not realize that the life of a destroyer is 12 years and that after this period of time has elapsed the ships are used at great hazard to the men who are placed aboard them."

Miners Strike At Republic, Pa.

Demand 20 Per Cent Increase
In Wages, Several Hundred Men Out On Strike

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 15.—Demanding a 20 percent wage increase for miners, several hundred men, women and children formed a picket line at the mine of the Republic Steel corporation, at Republic, near here, today.

A score of officers were placed on duty to guard against possible outbreaks.

Strike Declared.

The strike was declared overnight. Today only a small portion of 384 men employed on the shift plan reported for work.

Company officials sent busses and private automobiles to the homes of miners willing to work. These were greeted with threats and jeers when they approached the mine.

Women, picketing the workings, brandishing clubs. School children, free over the Easter holiday, added their voices to the shouts of the pickets as men entered the mine.

Sheriff Harry E. Hackney of Fayette county took charge of the guards on duty. Deputies and special deputies were called to the scene to prevent any trouble.

Rushed to a hospital here, physicians described his condition as "extremely critical." He is suffering from a shot below the heart.

The man was found lying unconscious on the roadside several miles outside of Butler, according to police.

Three Slight Auto Accidents Reported

Several Cars Are Damaged In Accidents Reported On City Streets

Carl F. Seward, of 314 Edgewood Avenue, reported to the police Saturday morning that he was enroute east on Mahoning Avenue about 8 o'clock this morning. Charles H. Wilkins, of Monessen, Pa., was enroute ahead of his machine.

Mr. Seward thought that Wilkins was planning to drive to the curb in front of the Car Works office, but instead Wilkins turned into the tin mill entrance, with the result that the Seward car ran into the Wilkins machine, causing slight damage to both.

Arthur H. Gray of R. D. 3, was enroute west on Sheridan Avenue, Friday as S. R. Cook of Beaver Falls, came south on Albert Street and failed to make the regulation stop, with the result that the machines came together. Both were damaged to some extent.

Arnold Rice reported Friday that he was driving the machine of J. E. Raffel of the Leslie Hotel and had the machine parked on Long Avenue in front of the Star Theatre. He was backing up his machine, when he backed into the fender of a car directly behind his machine. Slight damage was done to the other machine, the license number of which did not secure.

Four fire companies were called to the New Castle Feed and Coal Co. at 334 East Washington Street about 9 o'clock last evening as an alarm from Box 31, when fire was discovered in a pile of baled hay on the railroad platform in the rear of the building.

It is believed that someone threw a lighted cigarette into the pile. The damage was approximately $25.

RUFFING WINS HIS OWN GAME

By LES CONKLIN

NEW YORK, April 15.—The Brooklyn Dodgers definitely became a serious contender for the National league pennant today as a result of the brilliant debut yesterday of Walter Beck, six-foot rookie pitcher who won 27 games for Memphis in the southern association last year.

Manager Carey showed his confidence in the big fellow by starting him in Brooklyn's second game of the season in a tough spot, against the slugging Phillies in their bandbox park. Beck came through like a major, holding the Quaker sluggers to seven hits and winning 7 to 1 with the aid of Johnny Frederick, who had a perfect day at bat with four hits including a homer.

Beck Is Good

"Elmer the great," as his mates have dubbed the rookie, has the aplomb of a veteran and the self-confidence of a Dizzy Dean or a Wes Ferrell. He's good and he knows it. Beck looks to be good for 15 or 20 wins this year, in which case he will make the rabid Brooklyn fans forget all about Dazzy Vance. Since failing to make the grade with the Browns two years ago, he has developed marvelous control and a peculiar half side arm, half underhand delivery that will give National league sluggers a flock of headaches.

The Yankees are still the same old home-run outfit. Lou Gehrig hit his second circuit clout in two days and pitcher Charley Ruffing, in addition to holding the Red Sox to five hits, won his own game 6 to 2, by smacking a Homer with the bases filled in the ninth.

The Athletics can't be counted out of the American league race as long as Lefty Grove is on the job. The Peerless southpaw finally stopped Washington, 5 to 1, yielding six hits. Frank Higgins, Connie Mack's new third baseman from the Pacific coast, hit a home run.

All other games were called off because of inclement weather.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Edilio Valdez, 27, negro boxer known as Black Bill, is dead in New York, from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the stomach. Dispirited by failing eyesight, which he traced back to an unsportsmanlike incident of a ring encounter two years ago when an opponent rubbed resin in his eye, Valdez shot himself Saturday in his Harlem apartment. He had been practically without funds for the last two years. He came to the United States from Cuba with his manager Luis Gutierrez who is now handling Kid Chocolate.

Expect Big Crowd
More than 15,000 spectators were expected to line the banks and gather at the finish line to watch the races.

The white-tipped blades of the Washington crew, which swept to a seven-length victory over California a week ago, were expected to again sweep the huskies across the finish line at the head of the varsity procession.

Although the Golden Bears will have four men in their shell who have rowed to victory over this same course in the Olympics a year ago, they were not expected to overcome the smooth-running Washington boat.

Ky Ebright, California coach, in a pre-race prediction, declared:

"There is no use kidding anybody, Washington has the faster crew."

Fight Injunction
Against Wrestling
Ban In Illinois

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 15.—Chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois Athletic commission today prepared to fight the injunction obtained by John "Doc" Krone against the commission restraining that body from interfering with his wrestling show scheduled for May 4 and 23.

Triner requested attorney general Otto Kerner to appear before Judge William Lindsay to request that the injunction be dissolved.

Krone sought and obtained the injunction following the commission's issuance of a decree last Monday suspending wrestling throughout Illinois for an indefinite period.

The commission suspended the sport in an investigation of the Joe Savoldi-Jim Londos match last week in which the former Notre Dame football star won the alleged world heavy-weight title from Londos.

Grove City college has scheduled 12 basketball games for next season. The list includes only natural rivals, according to R. E. Thorne, director of athletics. After opening against the Youngstown Y, December 10 the Crimson will play Westminster January 5. The last game of the season will also be against Westminster but will be played at New Wilmington, March 7.

Managers of boxers in small towns are not getting much work for their protégés and are discovering that promoters whenever possible are catering to hometown fighters. The promoters dislike to pay transportation for managers and boxers which in the Golden Age was an unwritten rule of the game. The case is different, however, when a youngster turns in a sensational win or keeps flinging knockouts. Local boxers haven't had enough fights to keep them encouraged.

Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, who is scheduled to box Max Baer June 8, in New York, arrived in Gotham yesterday and will appear in a Pittsburgh exhibition Monday night. Jack Dempsey will act as referee. While Schmeling won and lost the heavyweight title which Dempsey once owned Dempsey will be the magnet of the fans. On Schmeling's previous exhibition tour the results were not so good, financially. Pittsburgh probably will sell out Monday night and the answer is "Dempsey." He will promote the Baer-Schmeling crash.

Roof Gibson of Jackson, Mich., won the annual Mason and Dixon golf meet at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Rowing Interest Today Centers At Long Beach, California, Colleges To Race

(International News Service)

MARINE STADIUM, Long Beach, April 15—Oxford still may lay claim as the intellectual center, but rowing interest has shifted to this courageous community that today will introduce intercollegiate crew to the Southland.

California champion of the Olympic games: Washington, conquerors of these same champions and the University of California at Los Angeles, making its initial bid in rowing circles.

Stalwart oarsmen from these three universities were to dip their blades into the waters of the Olympic rowing course here today to vie for the 2000 meter sprint championship of the Pacific coast.

Expect Air Activity
To Perk Up At Airport

Fishermen swarmed to the various streams early this morning in the hope of being among the first to catch trout on the opening day of the season. Threat of rain which turned into a slight drizzle about 7:30 a. m. did not stop the anglers. The rain stopped a few minutes later.

BETWEEN INNINGS

Yanks Alferia, Smith A. C. mushball team star has an injury to his leg which will keep him on the bench for some time to come.

Anglers Seek Elusive Trout

During the past week or more there has been quite a lot of activity at the New Castle airport and as the weather warms the activity will increase.

While some of the flyers soared into the air during the winter months it is in summer that the people want to get their sensations from high in the air.

Several visiting planes have called at the New Castle airport during the week. Two other ships came down, one due to motor trouble and another to take on more gasoline.

Bessemer High School News

DEBATING TEAMS WIN

Bessemer high school's debating teams, coached by Miss Esther Fell, came off with flying colors both at home and at Union high school on Wednesday afternoon. The question for debate was "Resolved: That at least one-half of all revenue for state and local purposes should be derived from sources other than tangible property." The members of the negative side who debated with the Union team at Bessemer were Ruth Davis, Kenneth Young, and John Sankovich. This debate was judged by Ronald Brown of Shenango high school. The upholders of the affirmative who debated Union were Mary Pusnik, Dorothy Houlette, and Twyla Groce. Their judge was Miss Marjorie Rhodes of the New Castle Senior high school. Since Bessemer won in their presentation of arguments both for and against, it would look as if the question is still unsettled, although it does prove that the younger generation can see both sides of a subject.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

BEE MEETINGS

Two meetings of interest to bee keepers will be held in Lawrence County next week. "Spring Management" of bees will be discussed by E. J. Anderson, Bee Specialist from State College, at each of these meetings.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday, April 18th, at 10:00 a. m. at the home of K. C. McKnight, Washington Township. This meeting will be of particular interest to the East Brook 4-H Bee Club members.

The second meeting will be held at the Demonstration Apiary on the farm of S. R. Huey, Neshannock Township, Tuesday, April 18th at 1:30 p. m. All bee keepers are invited to attend either of these meetings.

EGG MARKETING MEETING

All poultry producers and sellers of eggs who are interested in the organization and development of an egg auction in Western Pennsylvania are invited to attend a meeting in the Community Building, Butler, Thursday, April 20th at 8:00 p. m.

The purpose of this meeting is for further discussion regarding the operation of an Egg Auction similar to the ones being operated in Southeastern Pennsylvania; and possibly the formation of a definite organization to conduct the auction.

FERTILE SOIL NEEDED

Thorough soil preparation is necessary for growing garden crops. Plow or dig the garden deeply as soon as the soil has dried out sufficiently in the spring.

The farm garden should have the first chance on the supply of manure since it produces more food for the family than any other area. The application should be made early and before plowing or spading. Fertilizer gives large returns to vegetable crops when properly applied. On the garden a complete fertilizer or superphosphate is most effective when applied broadcast before planting, but after plowing, and worked deeply into the soil.

When large amounts of manure, especially chicken manure, have been applied, superphosphate (16 or 20 per cent) will complete the plant food elements in the soil. On average soils a 4-12-4 is the best formula of complete fertilizer. A good rate of application is 200 pounds on a quarter of an acre, 100 pounds on a 50 by 100-foot garden, or 50 pounds on a 50 by 50-foot garden.

APPLY DELAYED DORMANT SPRAY TO CONTROL SCAB

Fruit growers of Lawrence County are preparing for the rush of spring and summer spraying. This county is one of the 53 in the state receiving spraying information from State College for the guidance of 6,000 apple growers of the state. The spray information letters received by the growers include the object of spraying, pests to be controlled, materials to use, and time of application.

STRONG COLONIES WORK BEST IN POLLINATING

Bees not only contribute to the agricultural wealth by making honey but they are industrious servants of the fruit grower.

The number of bees that any colony can send out to gather nectar and pollen depends on the strength of the colony. A weak colony containing one pound of bees will send out only 6 to 10 bees a minute, which a strong colony with a large surplus of bees will send out 10 or more bees a minute.

For pollination purposes, the value of the colony is directly in proportion to the number of bees sent out to gather nectar and pollen.

Each spring a large number of colonies come out of the winter in weakened condition. These colonies can be strengthened in efficiency by adding 3 or 4 pounds of bees to each weak colony. Package bees for this purpose can be purchased from southern queen breeders to arrive about a week before the blossoms open.

These queenless package bees can be introduced to a weak colony safely if the bees of both package and colony are sprinkled with sugar syrup. After the package bees have a few minutes to feed on the syrup they should be dumped into the hive from which a few frames should be removed. Then the frames should be returned, the hive closed, and a few puffs of heavy smoke blown into the hive entrance. A few minutes later more smoke can be blown into the entrance and the introduction will be completed.

These young bees from the South will work vigorously and do a good job of pollinating the different varieties of fruit.
